Comprehensive System One / Decision Model Catalog

Corrected and expanded 22 October 2026. This edition preserves the model names from the earlier answers, adds vLLM D3 and other newer models, and marks evidence field-by-field. CONFIRMED = supported by a direct model card, model-owner repository, or official docs. NOT FOUND = insufficient direct evidence found in this pass; it does not mean the model cannot exist. A registry entry alone is discovery evidence, not proof of every technical capability.

What's fixed in this version

The prior expanded PDF accidentally omitted some names from the original registry list, hosted-API list, and open-implementation list. This catalog restores those earlier names as separate rows, retains the D3 family, and includes additional models found in the current public registry/repositories.

1. Multimodal models with image support evidenced in model-owner sources

Prioritize these rows for image-based decision experiments. The supported modality column describes model input, not whether every serving runtime supports every input type.

2. Open-weight / registry models from the earlier answers — all restored

This table deliberately preserves names from the original answer, even where model-specific technical evidence was not located. This prevents the earlier omission. Image support is only marked yes where a direct source supported it; otherwise it is NOT FOUND or text-only as documented.

3. Remaining names from the original registry and open-implementation lists

The following names were also present in earlier answers. They are retained individually rather than silently removed. Where the earlier name may be an alias, community project, or hosted product and a direct primary model card was not found in this pass, technical details are NOT FOUND.

4. Deployment shortlist and practical caveats

Smallest image/video decision models to evaluate: D3-Edge (~0.6B), D3-Lite (~0.8–0.9B), and d1-omni-600M (~0.6B). D3 supports text, images and video according to official vLLM docs; d1-omni's release documents text+image or text+audio. These are candidates, not proof of mobile NPU compatibility.

Best explicit edge-device evidence: Liquid AI d1-3B has published Jetson edge results. Best explicit Apple conversion evidence: JEV-9B Core ML port. GPU-oriented multimodal decisions: D3 family, H2O-Lightning-4B, and Rune v3.

Important D3 runtime note: The official vLLM recipe says D3 uses a nightly build and documents GPU deployment; D3 support being present in vLLM does not mean the model has an ONNX, Core ML, MLX, Android, or NPU implementation.

This version is intentionally comprehensive rather than claiming that every listed name has been independently verified. Several earlier names are retained with NOT FOUND statuses because reliable model-specific evidence was not located in this pass.
